CONSULTING ● ● ●

Redrock Consulting's Banking Services division specialises in management and business focused technical resources.

These vary from supporting finance business and technical management procedures through to business analysis, banking systems support and Niche system implementation. We have proven expertise in the delivery of professional IT business candidates. We have proven expertise in delivering to all areas of the Banking Industry from retail to Investment Banking. Our dedicated team with extensive investment banking, financial and business recruitment experience is able to deliver to your business needs. We find business knowledge is as important as the technical requirements.

We undertake Search and Selection techniques to identify dynamic IT and business personnel that can deliver real benefits within your ever changing environment.
